

AXIS MUNDI

LIMITED YEAR ROUND

RUSSIAN IMPERIAL STOUT

The Siberians believed there was a 'World Tree' that served as the Axis Mundi, connecting the different worlds through its roots and branches. While this Russian Imperial Stout isn't necessarily the world's cosmic axis, it does connect rich flavors in a way to deliver you a cosmic beer

ABV	10%
IBU	72
Malts	A metric shit ton
Hops	Galena, Cascade, Perle

THE MADTREE STORY

The MadTree Brewing Company was started by three self-proclaimed “maniac” homebrewers and aspiring entrepreneurs who believe strongly in the creation of beers that stand up to the best craft brews across the country. Along with that vision they put their own “mad twists” on their creations. The MadTree approach is simple – create high quality beer, educate the consumer, run a responsible business, and support the local communities. MadTree engages local artists and craftspeople for their marketing materials, can designs, tap handles and furniture. Many of these efforts have received local and national recognition.

HIGHLIGHTS

- The trio quit their corporate jobs in 2012/2013 and in January 2013 they brewed their first commercial batch.
- In April they opened their taproom and became the first modern craft brewery to can their beer in the state of Ohio.
- Draft Magazine rated PsychOPathy IPA a 97/100, the second best score for an IPA reviewed by Draft Magazine.
- PsychOPathy IPA was named as one of the “Six New Craft Can Designs That Belong in an Art Gallery” by craftcans.com
